COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course explores the evolution of economic models in East Asia, examining the policies, strategies, and outcomes of various economic approaches in the region. Through lectures, case studies, and discussions, students will gain insights into the economic development of countries like China, Japan, and South Korea, and understand their impact on global economics.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

- Understand the historical context and evolution of economic models in East Asia.
- Analyze the key policies and strategies adopted by East Asian countries.
- Evaluate the impact of these economic models on regional and global economies.
- Develop critical thinking skills through analysis of case studies and economic data.

Type of course

☐ Seminar course

Language of instruction

× English

PEDAGOGICAL FORMAT

The course will be conducted as a lecture but students' participation is also expected. Students will be asked to make a presentation in order to deepen their understanding of the specificities of East-Asian countries and stimulating class discussion. Readings will be available on Moodle.
